VICTOR RODGER (NZ)

Victor Rodger is an award-winning playwright and scriptwriter of Samoan heritage. Born in Christchurch he worked as a journalist before attending Toi Whakaari Drama School in Wellington, later going on to study writing for film in Amsterdam and take up a Fulbright-CNZ Pacific Writers' Residency at the University of Hawai'i. Much of Victor's theatre work deals with race, racism and identity including the plays Sons, Ranterstantrum and My Name is Gary Cooper. Since 2000 Victor has been a writer for New Zealand's iconic soap opera Shortland Street.

DAVID VEART (NZ)

David Veart is an archaeology enthusiast, an anthropologist, a Programme Manager (Historic) for the NZ Department of Conservation / Te Papa Atawhai and a member of Auckland Council's Heritage Advisory Panel. He is passionate about history, archaeology and education for children and has published two books: First Catch Your Weka: A Story of New Zealand Cooking (2008) and Digging Up the Past: Archaeology for the Young and Curious (2011).

IAN WEDDE (NZ)

Ian Wedde is New Zealand's current Poet Laureate. An accomplished poet, novelist, art writer and critic, his job as laureate is to be an advocate and a public presence for poetry, promoting the reading and writing of poetry to children and adults alike. Ian, who has also worked as the head of art and humanities at Te Papa, lives in Auckland, and teaches in the departments of English and Art History at The University of Auckland.

SCHOOLS DAY ONE

SESSIONS

Note: The first two sessions are suitable for mature upper primary years 5-6 as well as intermediate and lower secondary students. Students will be ushered into the theatre at 9.45am; the first session starts promptly at 10.00am.

01. EOIN COLFER — ARTEMIS FOWL

YEARS 5-10 — 10.00-10.45AM — ASB THEATRE

Eoin Colfer is the author of the hugely successful Artemis Fowl science-fantasy series, starring teenage criminal mastermind Artemis Fowl II. Witty and funny tales, enjoyed by boys, girls and adults, the last in the eight book series, is due to be released in 2012. The books have also been turned into graphic novels and a film is currently in development. Eoin is a gifted and entertaining speaker who will talk about the invention of Artemis, including a series of very funny anecdotes about his family who influenced the books, show a trailer and answer questions from fans during this entertaining and inspiring forty-five minute session.

02. OLIVER JEFFERS — THE INCREDIBLE BOOK ARTIST

YEARS 5-10 — 10.55-11.40AM — ASB THEATRE

Oliver Jeffers draws beautiful pictures and tells great stories in award-winning books that delight children and adults alike. His tales have been described as explorations of 'friendship, loneliness, independence and imagination' and include The Incredible Book Eating Boy, Lost and Found, The Heart and The Bottle, and How To Catch a Star. An accomplished artist, he has said that he became passionate about picture books when he began to understand the subtle relationship between words and pictures and the way a few words can change a picture's meaning. In this special session Oliver will draw live on stage, while his stories are read aloud, alongside answering questions about his art and his books.

11.40AM-12.25PM — LUNCH AND BOOK SIGNING WITH EOIN COLFER, MAL PEET AND PAULA MORRIS

03. DAVID VEART — NZ ARCHAEOLOGY FOR THE YOUNG AND CURIOUS

YEARS 7-10 — 12.30-1.15PM — ASB THEATRE

An insightful combination of New Zealand history and archaeology, David Veart's Digging Up the Past: Archaeology for the Young and Curious (2011) brings together his passion for education and his strong local knowledge with his love of the discipline. The book begins with human arrival and explores how people have learned to live in Aotearoa/New Zealand, both Māori and Pakeha, in camps, quarries, mines and cities. David Veart has been fascinated by archaeology since reading a book on the treasures of Egypt as a child. "When I was a child, I thought of all archaeology as being associated with exotic locations like Egypt. Our place is just as exciting if we know how to look," he says.

04. EMILY RODDA — FICTION & FANTASY

YEARS 7-10 — 1.25-2.10PM — ASB THEATRE

Emily Rodda is one of Australia's most successful and popular writers. She has written or co-authored more than fifty books for younger readers, from picture books to YA novels including the much-loved Rowan and Deltora Quest fantasy series and the first of her new The Three Doors trilogy. Her books are full of magic and mystery, with great characters and beautifully crafted plots. Emily is passionate about the importance of developing an appreciation of literature in children and has worked extensively with educators and children to encourage a love of reading and stories. She will talk about her work and storytelling.

2.10-2.40PM — FINISH AND BOOK SIGNING WITH DAVID VEART, OLIVER JEFFERS AND EMILY RODDA

WORKSHOPS

05. MAL PEET — CLOUD TEA MONKEYS

YEARS 7-10 (MAX 20) — 9.40-10.40AM — GOODMAN FIELDER ROOM

Cloud Tea Monkeys is an illustrated chapter book written by Mal Peet with his wife Elspeth Graham. This workshop will focus on where the seeds of stories come from and how to write a story with somebody else.

06. PAULA MORRIS — CREATIVE CHARACTERS

YEARS 7-10 (MAX 20) — 10.50-11.50AM — GOODMAN FIELDER ROOM

Paula Morris will explore what makes a good fictional character and present some exercises to help develop multi-dimensional characters in writing.

07. OLIVER JEFFERS — ILLUSTRATED STORIES

YEARS 7-10 (MAX 20) — 12.20-1.20AM — GOODMAN FIELDER ROOM

In this workshop students will explore the relationship between words and pictures and practise how to build a story using both.

SCHOOLS DAY TWO

THURSDAY 10 MAY

SESSIONS

Students will be ushered into the theatre at 9.30am; the days' sessions will begin promptly at 9.45am with a welcome to the Festival and a short introduction from The University of Auckland.

08. EMILY RODDA – FICTION AND FANTASY

YEARS 9-13 – 9.55-10.40AM – ASB THEATRE

Please see Event 04 for more information.

09. CHRIS GROSZ – KIMBLE BENT

YEARS 9-13 – 9.55-10.40AM – LOWER NZI ROOM

Graphic artist Chris Grosz presents the historical tale of Kimble Bent in pictures. This is a true-life New Zealand adventure, set under the brooding volcanic cone of Mt Taranaki, retold in bold graphic style. Chris will précis the story and talk about why and how he chose to tell it in graphic form.

10. ANTHONY MCCARTEN – LIFE IN THE DIGITAL WORLD

YEARS 9-13 – 10.50-11.35AM – ASB THEATRE

New Zealand expat writer and filmmaker Anthony McCarten's latest book In The Absence of Heroes, a follow-up to the award-winning Death of a Superhero, focusses heavily on life in the digital and gaming worlds and explores the impact of the internet on a family in crisis. He will talk about digital landscapes and storytelling on and off line.

11. IAN WEDDE – THE PLEASURE OF POETRY

YEARS 9-13 – 10.50-11.35AM – LOWER NZI ROOM

New Zealand's current Poet Laureate, the award-winning writer Ian Wedde, has been writing poetry for more than 40 years and has had fourteen collections published. He will discuss the pleasures of writing and reading poetry, talk about why poetry matters and share poems with students who are encouraged to bring one of their own to share at the session.

11.35AM-12.25PM – LUNCH AND BOOK SIGNING WITH EMILY RODDA, CHRIS GROSZ, ANTHONY MCCARTEN, IAN WEDDE & FLEUR BEALE

12. MAL PEET – LIFE: AN UNEXPLODED DIAGRAM

YEARS 9-13 – 12.30-1.15PM – ASB THEATRE

Award-winning fiction writer Mal Peet returns to the Auckland Writers & Readers Festival with his latest brilliant book Life: An Unexploded Diagram. This thoughtful and funny novel is a tale of first love set against the backdrop of the 1962 Cuban missile crisis but sweeping across the twentieth century to September 2011. Mal talks about the book and about life during times of war.

13. HINEMOANA BAKER

YEARS 9-13 – 12.30-1.15PM – LOWER NZI ROOM

Multi-talented Hinemoana Baker is a songwriter, singer, poet, creative fiction writer, blogger and teacher. It's all 'really just story-telling - coupled with a passion for the sound of words, music, waiata tawhito, my diving gear, whatever... It's just the delivery mechanism that changes,' she says. Hinemoana will lead a session on the joys and craft of sound and songwriting.

14. FLEUR BEALE – JUNO AND JAKE

YEARS 9-13 – 1.25-2.10PM – ASB THEATRE

In 2011, Fleur Beale published two new books: Heart of Danger, the final in her hugely successful Juno of Taris trilogy which follows feisty heroine Juno in a 22nd century sealed off world; and Dirt Bomb featuring boys, cars and growing up. Fleur discusses her latest books and how stories are a way of exploring important questions and big ideas.

15. VICTOR RODGER – SHORTLAND STREET

YEARS 9-13 – 1.25-2.10PM – LOWER NZI ROOM

Shortland Street has been entertaining New Zealand audiences and exploring social issues for the last twenty years. Scriptwriter and playwright Victor Rodger has worked on the programme for more than ten years and will discuss writing for television and the stage as well as sharing inside stories on this screen favourite.

2.10-2.40PM – FINISH AND BOOK SIGNING WITH FLEUR BEALE, MARTIN EDMOND, DAVID HASTINGS, MAL PEET, VICTOR RODGER & HINEMOANA BAKER

WORKSHOPS

16. FLEUR BEALE — SHAPING STORIES

YEARS 10-13 (MAX 20) — 10.45-11.45AM — GOODMAN FIELDER ROOM

Fleur Beale says to aspiring writers: “Write. Write about what happens to you. Write about how you feel and why you feel like it. And never throw away what you’ve written. Date it and keep it in a big box under your bed.” In this workshop students will be encouraged to explore how to use character, plot and dialogue to turn experiences into good stories.

17. MARTIN EDMOND — CREATIVE NON-FICTION

YEARS 10-13 (MAX 20) — 12.15-1.15PM — GOODMAN FIELDER ROOM

Much of Martin Edmond’s creative non-fiction work, biography and otherwise, involves asking questions and following the paths of possible answers in writing. It’s highly imaginative and yet beautifully crafted. In this workshop he will talk about his process for writing creative non-fiction and how to develop an observation into a written piece.

18. DAVID HASTINGS — THE WORST NEWS STORY EVER WRITTEN

YEARS 10-13 (MAX 20) — 1.20-2.20PM — GOODMAN FIELDER ROOM

In this workshop, Weekend Herald editor David Hastings will present ‘the worst news story ever written’ and discuss what students can learn from it, including how to ask the right questions and choose the right words.
